FLINT INSTITUTE OF ARTS

from the president

At the Flint Institute of Arts, 2011 was a year of looking forward. A new decade has begun and to guide planning for the next five years the FIA Board of Trustees finalized new goals and objectives.

The Board chose financial self-sustainability as its primary goal. The effects of the deep recession continued to have an impact on us, like everyone else. To help us move into the future with confidence, we focused on good planning and worked toward an increase in our endowment level.

Although our fine, new facility is well maintained, we continually search for more efficient ways to light and heat the buildings. We are also planning for upcoming maintenance projects by beginning a savings program well in advance of anticipated needs.

Technology application and new uses are part of the FIA's future as well. Our excellent new website was acknowledged with an ADDY Award. Board members now receive meeting materials via email and soon through a website link. Even some committee meetings are occasionally conducted through emails. This is a huge new area for growth and a challenge for the museum and school.

As Flint changes, it also becomes more diverse, and we have tried to include many under-served populations in our programming, exhibits, and school-age activities. Children, adults and seniors will all find activities provided for them such as holiday craft activities, a new book discussion group, and an extensive summer program. We also have a growing cancer-survivors art program.

The FIA benefits from the generosity of so many people and foundations. The C.S. Mott Foundation continues to be a stalwart supporter of the FIA and its exhibitions. We thank them most sincerely. Also, through individual donations our collection is growing impressively. However, growth is guided by our space availability and needs of the collection.

I am particularly pleased with the newer activities that have offered additional ways to participate with both the FIA and the greater world of art. The Print Society, now with 97 members, has released its fourth print, sponsored a print fair and hosted an exclusive lecture for its members.

The Education Department's book discussion group is serving an enthusiastic number of participants. The 90 members of the Film Society in combination with Friends of Modern Art's (FOMA) continued sponsorship and operation of the Film Series have brought about a growing popularity with each new screening. And the college age audience is now benefitting from a college night film on Thursday evenings.

The Rubens Society has now grown to more than 100 members in its 15 years of existence as a special membership category.

Lectures are offered on a wide variety of art world subjects and are uniformly very well attended. The Thompson Lecture and the Bray Lecture series are highly anticipated events and even on foul-weather evenings our auditorium is full of excited patrons.

The volunteer committees that plan the Beer Tasting, Hispanic Gala, African-American Gala and The Party have each reached out to bring new members and positive recognition to the FIA. These events generate significant income and the FIA has become known as a location for the pursuit of both learning and fun.

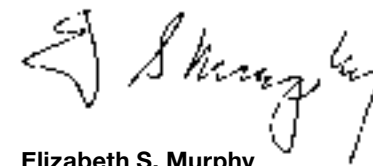

Our Docents provide excellent interpretation of our many special exhibits and our permanent collection. School children, adults and many first-time visitors get a wonderful introduction to viewing and enjoying artwork through the outstanding work of this group of volunteers.

The FIA enjoys the benefits of having two auxiliary organizations which promote and financially support the museum. The Founders Society does much of the behind the scenes work to host exhibition openings. They operate the year-round Art Sales and Rental program and support exhibitions of Michigan artists. They also co-organize and co-manage the highly successful First Frost Art Fair.

FOMA has been known for decades as the operator of the Flint Art Fair. This highly anticipated, two day event requires year-round planning and coordination. Each year it is the unofficial start of summer for Flint. Artists and patrons alike love coming to the Flint Art Fair. We thank FOMA for maintaining this labor-intensive tradition.

The FIA enjoys this vibrancy and excitement in large part because it is well led by Director John Henry. Mr. Henry thinks big; he inspires the Board and staff to achieve great results. The FIA is the shining jewel of Flint today because Mr. Henry sees both potential and reality. He strives for the potential until it becomes our reality.

I thank our dedicated Board members for their work this past year and for their support during my term as President. Each year will bring new challenges. While traditional sources of funding are changing, I remind you that our galleries showcase artwork spanning thousands of years of change. Yet over all of that time, creativity survives. You are people of vision and capability; your work will carry the FIA forward with new art, new programs and even more enjoyment.

from the director

2011 was a year of looking forward and planning for the future made possible through the rarely celebrated, behind-the-scenes initiatives that are essential to the fiscal and programmatic success of a museum and art school. As always, the dedicated and skillfully coordinated efforts of volunteers, staff, and community leaders were the driving force behind the year's accomplishments. As our performance is guided by ideals of quality, accountability, inclusiveness, transparency, public safety, fiscal responsibility, education and collection stewardship, success would not have been possible without the many individuals who give so much.

This year volunteers contributed more than 8,000 hours of service and I would like to thank all those involved including our auxiliaries' Friends of Modern Art, Founders Society, and Docent Corps; our event committees for The Party, Community Gala, Wine Tasting, Beer Tasting; our Film Society, Print Society and College Town Student Advisory Council; as well as everyone else from our Trustees and Advisory Council members to our audio guide readers, interns and coat check volunteers. The extraordinary amount of energy and ingenuity that all volunteers put into special projects and collaborations is what makes the FIA a place where visitors find inspiration and entire communities are made to feel welcome.

The public's perception of events and their level of comfort is influenced by many intangible things. The FIA's Facilities and Custodial staff take great pride in the appearance of the Institute. Additionally, the eagerness of the Security staff and the new Visitor Services department to strengthen communication and improve performance in areas such as public safety, emergency preparedness, and customer convenience has created an atmosphere where our visitors feel comfortable, recognized and valued.

The FIA was fortunate to have received continuing support during the year from loyal donors including the Friends of Modern Art, Founders Society, Citizens Bank, The Community Foundation of Greater Flint, the Bray Trust, the Bishop Trust, the Whiting Foundation, and the Loeb Charitable Trust. Substantial grants received from Target, the Harding Foundation, the Henry Luce Foundation and especially the C. S. Mott Foundation assisted with marketing, staff and general operating expenses. Additionally, a generous grant from the Isabel Foundation supported plans for the redesign and renovation of the Library, Members Room, Graphics Gallery and Print Library to create a new dedicated space in the museum for decorative arts.

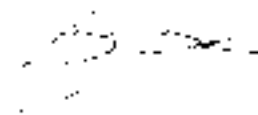

Loyal patrons of the FIA including the widow of Dr. Stuart Hodge, Mrs. Doris Sutton, Claire White, Bob Piper, and the Arthur Hurand Family contributed to the Annual Appeal for exhibitions, the Art School, the Bray Catalogue project and the commission of a major work of contemporary sculpture for the permanent collection. And notable support to the Endowment Campaign came through bequests from the estates of Mary Ann Kettler, Bernhard Stroh, and Beth Howarth, as well.

As important as ongoing support is to the museum, the cultivation of new donors is also essential to FIA programs and services and the growth of the collection. This year we had great success expanding our donor base through the efforts of the Development Department and our grant writer. The FIA was fortunate to have received grants from several newfound donors, including the Cargill Foundation, the Kress Foundation, Bank of America, the Horowitz Foundation, and Art Alliance for Contemporary Glass. Funds from these and other successful grants supported important projects including the scholarly research and virtual publication of the European Collection, educational programs and the Lewandowski exhibition and catalog.

Through research and working with collectors and art dealers, the Curatorial department acquired from 22 collectors 218 works that included paintings, sculptures, drawings, prints, glass and ceramics. Additionally, 39 works were purchased with funds from the Jill Ford Murray fund and Richard A. Shaw, by exchange, to help fill gaps in the collection and underscore our commitment to explore artistic development through diverse media and cultures. The Curatorial staff also completed long needed and important cataloging of both the European and American collections, extensive research on the Bray collection including all preparations for a major publication, and the completion of the oversized painting vault, designed to provide for the safety of large-scale works of art (those with dimensions that exceed 8 feet).

The FIA's marketing campaign was very successful in attracting the public to our many events; however, the untold story is in the area of graphic design and social media. From the moment visitors arrive—and even before—they are engaged by colorful images telling a visual story of the exciting and varied opportunities available at the FIA. The message is conveyed through the talents of our exceptional graphic design and marketing department staff members. Exterior banners, interior marquees, flat screen monitors, and film trailers in the Theater provided on-site visitors with information on all FIA programs and services. Virtual access to the FIA on social media sites include Facebook, Myspace and Twitter, E-news blasts, and the FIA's new award-winning interactive website all serve to educate and inform our visitors, both on and off site, in the most effective means possible.

Together, the Board of Trustees and the other dedicated volunteers, patrons and talented staff have produced, what I believe is, the very best experience a museum and art school can offer.

exhibitions

The Flint Institute of Arts strives to provide excellent and innovative exhibitions that inspire, enlighten and educate our visitors. During the fiscal year, the FIA presented 10 changing exhibitions to enhance the visitor’s understanding of the thematic, aesthetic, and historical content of a work of art. As one of the FIA’s most visible programming activities, exhibitions promote greater audience visitation, which increases awareness of the museum’s permanent collection and other FIA programs. Because the FIA is the only institution of its kind in Flint, Genesee County, and the region north of the Detroit metropolitan area, it is important that exhibition programming explores a wide range of artistic concepts and cultures. To this end, the Curatorial Department organizes exhibitions drawn from the FIA’s extensive collection of more than 8,000 paintings, sculptures, works on paper and decorative arts, as well as borrows collections from artists, collectors, museums, and traveling exhibition organizers. In this fiscal year, gallery attendance totaled 52,792.

Recent Acquisitions to the FIA’s Permanent Collection

7.31.10 – 9.26.10

The FIA’s permanent collection has over 3,500 works on paper and continues to grow through generous gifts and by purchasing works to fill stylistic and historical gaps. Over the past three years, the FIA has acquired many works on paper from which this exhibition was created. Selections included works by Andre Masson, Joan Miró, Louise Bourgeois, and George Condo.

Unbroken Ties: Dialogues in Cuban Art

9.12.10 – 12.7.10

The exhibition Unbroken Ties: Dialogues in Cuban Art, organized by the Museum of Art | Fort Lauderdale, Nova Southeastern University, was culled from their collection of contemporary Cuban art assembled by curator Jorge Santis. The exhibition revealed the existence of an acutely Cuban point of view, based on shared concerns, and was illustrated by a series of comparisons and contrasts between individual works of art stressing their direct or indirect thematic linkage. The selected works represented three distinct groups of Cuban-born artists: men and women who were born on the island, but developed professionally abroad, artists who reached artistic maturity and later immigrated to the United States, and a younger group of artists who not only studied in their homeland but still reside there. The visual dialogues were established by 56 works of art by 41 different artists. Unbroken Ties was a multimedia exhibition consisting of paintings, sculptures, photographs, graphic works, videos and installations. The exhibition comprised both renowned artists and emerging artists, included Jose Bedia, Abelardo Morrell, María Magdalena Campos-Pons, Tony Mendoza, Tomás Sánchez, Raúl Cordero, Kattia García Fayat and Miguel Florido.

Structurally, the exhibition was divided into three sections, each concerning a different aspect of Cuban culture. The first consisted of works that pertain to Cuba, before and after Castro and the fight for survival. The second, the treacherous journey to the United States and the risks Cuban immigrants take to get a “fresh start.” The last group, examined what happens once the immigrants reach the United States and the new set of challenges and frustrations that await them there.

Richard Florsheim

10.2.10 – 11.28.10

Richard Florsheim’s graphic works experiment with refracted light in landscapes, industrial scenes and illuminated cityscapes often depicting light projecting into the sky and along the shoreline. Among his best known images are views of the Chicago skyline at night and the bright yellow and orange flames from steel mills seen against dark backgrounds. He also created works depicting the atrocities of war, often using abstracted sharp angles and bright color like the work Combat shown above. His works from his summer stays in Provincetown also depicted the refraction and distortion of light.

Picasso

12.4.10 – 2.27.11

Throughout his career, Pablo Picasso (1881–1973) was a master of several different media. He created over 2,500 prints and countless drawings. Picasso was thoroughly involved in every step of the printmaking process and used a range of printmaking techniques including drypoint, etching, aquatint, lithography, and linocut. This exhibition presented highlights from the 20th century master’s body of graphic works and included over 40 examples spanning his long career as an artist.

3-D: Focus on the Figure

12.18.10 – 1.30.11

The human form has provided sculptors with inspiration for thousands of years. The very first sculptures created were stylized representations of the human form. In Western Art, the human form has evolved over several centuries from predominantly religious and mythological subject matter to works that come close to pure abstraction. Traditionally artists work in metal, stone or clay; however, many contemporary works incorporate a great variety of other materials like silicone, textiles and even hair! This exhibition celebrated the rich history of artists depicting the human form in three dimensions with more than 40 sculptures spanning five centuries. Selections included Renaissance and Baroque works by Giovanni della Robbia and Gerolamo Campagna, as well as Modernist and contemporary works by Auguste Rodin, Pablo Picasso and Duane Hanson.

Promises of Freedom: Selections from the Arthur Primas Collection

2.27.11 – 4.17.11

African American art cannot be reduced to a single definition as it is a complex mix of sources, inspirations and goals. The artists in Promises of Freedom: Selections from the Arthur Primas Collection created art that speaks to experiences on individual and collective levels, reflecting both international and domestic influences. Their art tells stories about life in America as seen by artists not initially accepted or appreciated in the art world. Bringing these artists to light reveals works that are searching, hopeful and self-supporting. The Arthur Primas Collection is one of the largest and most important collections of African American art in the country, including works by Charles White, Jacob Lawrence, Romare Bearden and Hughie Lee-Smith. This exhibition offered a glimpse into the private desires and public proclamations of these artists. Images that disdain oppression, claim individuality, give shape to spirituality and persevere in the search for beauty were brought together to represent the artists’ search for freedom.

The World Around Them: Works on Paper from the Great Lakes Region

3.5.11 – 5.1.11

The Flint Institute of Arts has an outstanding collection of works on paper by artists of the Great Lakes region which includes, New York, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, and Minnesota. In the past decade, the collection has expanded dramatically in breadth and depth to include hundreds of examples from the most significant artists of this region including Charles Burchfield, Clarence Carter, John Curry, Zoltan Sepeshy, Clyde Singer, and William Sommer. This exhibition featured 40 works on paper, offering a glimpse into the everyday life that surrounded these artists during the first half of the 20th century. Subjects included depictions of the shorelines of the Great Lakes, industry and commerce, rural landscapes and cityscapes.

Sidney Hurwitz

5.7.11 – 7.3.11

For years, Sidney Hurwitz has focused his printmaking on images from the steel industry and related industrial and urban subjects. Working primarily with aquatint etchings, he watercolors the monochromatic prints by hand. Hurwitz finds American industry to be a great source of visual material, and by focusing on the geometric forms of bridges, factories and train stations, the compositions take on abstract qualities.

Edmund Lewandowski: Precisionism & Beyond

5.7.11 – 8.7.11

This exhibition was the first retrospective of Milwaukee-born artist Edmund Lewandowski (1914–98), the preeminent second-generation Precisionist, who achieved recognition for extending the style of Precisionism beyond the East Coast and into the Midwest, making it a national style.

For Lewandowski, a Precisionist was an artist who was engaged in painting the American scene, in an American style that was an American historical record. Following the lead of earlier Precisionists Charles Sheeler, Niles Spencer, Ralston Crawford, and sometimes Charles Demuth, Lewandowski affirmed the importance and inspiring beauty of machinery and technology and celebrated industrial subject matter as emblematic of the modern world.

His long career, however, encompassed a wider spectrum of media and styles than just Precisionism, from representational to symbolic abstraction. In his art, he masterfully worked in drawing, watercolor, mixed media, oil, painted and mosaic murals, as well as in commercial art, and was also an influential educator. Lewandowski was inspired by industrial imagery in all his creative endeavors, as he affirmed: “My overwhelming desire... through the years has been to record the beauty of man made objects and energy of American industry.”

Something Waits Beneath It—Early Work by Andrew Wyeth, 1939–1969

5.7.11 – 8.7.11

Twenty-year-old Andrew Wyeth won national recognition for his 1937 exhibition of watercolors at New York’s Macbeth Galleries. In 1943, critics called him a “magic realist,” recognizing the often hard-to-define emotional nuances of his precisely rendered paintings. For over 60 years, in watercolor, tempera and drybrush, Wyeth has portrayed the places and moods of eastern Pennsylvania and coastal Maine. This group of early works is replete with the artist’s imagery of weathered architecture, subtleties of landscape and light and unexpected viewpoints. Ranging from casually glimpsed to deeply studied, Wyeth’s scenes are born of close observation, memory, and mastery of line and color, interwoven with his personal experience and feelings.

Something Waits Beneath It—Early Work by Andrew Wyeth, 1939–1969 presented an intimate exhibition of early and seldom seen works by the young Andrew Wyeth, including watercolors of Maine and Pennsylvania made from 1939 through the 1960s. Illustrated letters, watercolors, and ink sketches, reveal the private observations of the artist—capturing glimpses of napping dogs, a bowl of holly, a nearby stream, a country kitchen. It is these very objects, animate and inanimate, that often disappear from finished paintings that provide the mystery infusing so much of Wyeth’s art.

loans

The Flint Institute of Arts believes an effective way to enhance its reputation as an important cultural institution is to lend works of art from the permanent collection to other museums. Lending art promotes collegial relationships between museums, and provides national and international audiences exposure to works of art from the FIA’s outstanding permanent collection. In addition, the FIA also borrows works from other museums and galleries to supplement the permanent collection and exhibitions.

publication

Perhaps the most important work a museum can engage in is to research a work of art in its collection, contextualize the work in an exhibition, and catalog the exhibition with accurate information and insightful observations.

The Flint Institute of Arts owns more than 8,000 works of art, six of which are by Edmund Lewandowski. A Midwestern artist, Lewandowski was an influential painter known for his images of industrial, urban, and architectural subject matter. He is considered the preeminent second-generation Precisionist, and is credited with bringing Precisionism, a style originating in New York, to the Midwest.

The project was initiated during the recent renovations to the FIA when two monumental mosaic murals, commissioned for the original building in 1958, were uncovered and restored. The project grew to become the first ever retrospective of the artist and included a fully illustrated 124 page catalog of the exhibition.

The exhibition and publication were funded by The Judith Rothschild Foundation and The Mr. & Mrs. Raymond J. Horowitz Foundation.

films & videos

The FIA Film Program is intended to offer motion pictures that appeal to a broad and diverse audience in the local community. The program comprises of a weekly schedule of film series and festivals in the FIA Theater. The main series, sponsored by the Friends of Modern Art and held on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays, accounted for 41 titles over 36 weeks between Labor Day and Memorial Day in this fiscal year. The College Town Movie Series was held on 25 Thursday nights between September and April. A museum record of 11,174 patrons attended films at the FIA. In addition, the FIA Film Society continued for its second year to enable members to take a stronger interest in the program.

The Fleckenstein Video Gallery is a distinctive museum space dedicated to the exhibition of outstanding works by video artists. The gallery operates all day, every day the museum is open, and features a different artist each month.

Film Society

The 2010–11 season marked the second year of the FIA Film Society, a group intended to increase interest in, and funding for, the film program.

By season’s end, the society included 90 members and sponsors, up from 80 in 2009–10. Most of them were at the basic membership level of $100, which granted the donor 35 tickets to FOMA films, listings in the FIA Members Magazine and Annual Report, and access to monthly newsletter e-mailings about upcoming movies.

Higher sponsorship levels gained donors listings on screen before each film presentation, extra tickets and a presence on the FIA Web site.

Patrons who chose to use all or most of their 35 tickets for the $100 level saved a good deal of money over paying the standard admission fees. This was a good incentive for people to come to the films.

art school

The FIA Art School is dedicated to the enrichment of the community through individual academic exposure to the visual arts. Since 1928, the Art School has operated continuously, helping students develop a wide range of artistic goals and skill levels. Programs are designed to support the mission of the FIA with dynamic curricula that engages students and the community through creative processes, studio experiences, and gallery exhibitions.

The Art School experienced a change in administration during the Fall 2010 session. The previous Assistant Director of the Art School, Addie B. Langford, accepted a position at another institution during the Summer 2010 session. Jeff Garrett was welcomed to the Art School as the new Assistant Director in October 2010. He brings experience in curriculum development, classroom instruction, and program management. Mr. Garrett feels an art school should foster one's ability to make critical judgments on the validity and/or importance of their ideas.

Enrollment

During the fiscal year 2010–2011, 30 highly qualified faculty members offered instruction in approximately 225 classes such as drawing, painting, photography, animation and character design, fibers, glass mosaic, ceramics, and early childhood art classes. Total enrollment for the fiscal year was 1,417, of which 1,144 were members, 91 non-members, 152 scholarships, and 30 staff. The Summer 2010 session totaled 467; Fall 2010 session totaled 471; Winter/Spring session totaled 479.

Programming

The Art School continued Visiting Artist programming by hosting professional artists from throughout the region in drawing, dichroic glass fusing, and various painting techniques ranging from oils to encaustic.

The collaborative Healing Through Art therapy program with the FIA and McLaren Medical Center continued in the promotion of emotional and physical healing for patients undergoing prolonged treatment for chronic pain and illness often associated with a cancer diagnosis. The partnership generated over 100 encounters during the fiscal year 2010–2011 with art therapist Gail Singer.

The Pre-College Portfolio Development Program entered its third year by welcoming seven new students. The program is dedicated to strengthening visual arts abilities through advanced instruction, career counseling, and exposure to various mediums via traditional studio courses. There are three sections of students (26 total) participating, with the first section having completed their studies at the end of the Fall 2011 session. Two students from the first section were already accepted into college art programs before their studies concluded in December 2011. The program provides the tools necessary to become competitive during the college application process. The program has been made possible by the James A. Welch Foundation and the Stella and Frederick S. Loeb Charitable Trust, administered by Citizen's Bank Wealth Management, N.A.

Claire White, Ceramics Student

New Initiatives

New equipment has been added to further enhance Art School programming. A grant from the James A. Welch Foundation assisted in the acquisition of three mig welders and a plasma cutter to outfit a new welding lab and metal arts programming. Ten MacBooks have been added to assist Pre-College Portfolio Development students create, alter, and store images for their portfolios using Photoshop Elements software.

The Bishop Gallery received a generous grant from the Bishop Charitable Trust in June 2011. The grant will fund new exhibition opportunities in conjunction with expanded space and lighting, additional pedestals, and increased marketing. The gallery has been relocated to the first floor of the Art School for ease of access for students and visitors. The Bishop Gallery is dedicated to the presentation of a wide range of art created by Art School students, faculty, and guest artists.

Scholarships

The Art School continued to serve students and community collaborators with 101 youth scholarships, 32 adult scholarships, 16 Pre-College Portfolio Development Program scholarships, and the Partner Scholarship Program with participants from the Beecher Scholarship Incentive Program (2) and Motherly Intercession (1).

Marketing

The Art School increased marketing in the form of local media advertisements with two Flint Journal ads and web links on M-Live. Ads were placed before the beginning of the Summer 2011 session.

As of June 30, 2011 the endowment funds totaled $24,775,150 contributing 25% the annual income. Unrestricted donations in the form of planned gifts and bequests are traditionally allocated to endowment. Please see pages 41 and 42 for this fiscal year's listing.

Grants

The FIA receives grant awards from foundations, community organizations, businesses, corporations, the state, and the federal government. The FIA receives support from two auxiliary groups; the Founders Society and Friends of Modern Art. Revenue from grants represents 47% of the FIA's annual income.

Earned Income

Income generated from sales, tuition, facility rentals, special events, and admissions provided 14% of the FIA's operating income

Contributions

Monetary donations, annual appeal gifts, memorials, donations commemorating anniversaries and birthdays, specific programs or events contribute 8% of the Institute's annual income.

Membership

Membership dues represent 6% of the FIA's annual income and there are many ways to support the museum through membership:

- Membership levels begin at $20 annually for a Youth (ages 2.5–12) or a Student (ages 13+) and progresses to our highest level of Rubens Society, $1,000+ annually.
- Whether an individual or a corporation, there are many levels of membership from which to choose. Basic benefits are enjoyed by all, and higher level donors receive extended benefits, such as reciprocal membership privileges to over 450 museums nationwide at the Sustainer level ($100) and above.
- As noted above, the Rubens Society is the highest level of membership ($1,000+) whose contributions generate more than $100,000 to the budget. Society members are invited to three exclusive events throughout the year.
- The FIA's Art School is a strong promoter of membership as members receive a discount on art classes. 27% new members joined through the Art School, and an additional 7% renewed.
- The Print Society was established in 2007. This Society is limited to 100 members who, after first becoming a member of the FIA at the Family level ($50) or above, received a commissioned print by a noteworthy artist. The Society is dedicated to the connoisseurship, the pursuit of personal collecting, and the purchase of prints to augment the FIA's collection.
- Also established in 2007, the FIA College Town initiative provided free memberships to students at Kettering University, University of Michigan-Flint, Mott Community College, and Baker College. Students received many of the basic benefits, but received no mailings. Instead, they were updated through E-Newsletters. In 2009, Thursday evening free College Town Films was introduced and was subsidized by the four institutions. A Student Advisory Council with representatives from each college organizes special membership events. They also make recommendations to Museum staff regarding film selections, programs and services that are of interest to College Town members. The FIA expanded gallery hours until 9:00pm on Thursday evenings at the suggestion of the Student Advisors.

Please see pages 48–60 for this fiscal year's membership listing.

Friends of Modern Art

Letter from the President,
Christopher Kelly, Jr.

Reflecting on the past year, there are many things that the Flint Institute of Arts and Friends of Modern Art members can look back on with pride. The 44th annual Flint Art Fair was as successful as ever, with more than 10,000 people attending the two-day event. Over 160 artists from around the country chose Flint as their exhibition destination that weekend. On top of the normal array of fine art, good food, and music on Saturday and Sunday afternoon, a free evening of musical entertainment on Saturday night was offered as well.

The FOMA Film Series at the FIA Theater continues to provide high quality domestic and foreign films for our discerning movie aficionados. Thanks to the combined efforts of FIA staff and FOMA volunteers, attendance steadily increase this past year. We look forward to providing this important entertainment element for our local community for years to come.

FOMA was happy to continue the tradition of supporting FIA art exhibitions by contributing $25,000 towards Something Waits Beneath It—Early Work by Andrew Wyeth, 1939–1969. This exhibition offered a an insightful personal view into the early vision of the iconic American painter.

FOMA would like to extend a heartfelt “thank you” to all of the volunteers that contribute their time and effort in our endeavors to support the FIA both financially and programmatically. Additionally, much of what we accomplish would not be possible without assistance that the FIA's dedicated staff provides. We look forward to future successes for both FOMA and the FIA.

The Founders Society pledged $27,000 in support of the Flint Institute of Arts in this fiscal year. These pledges were to support the publication of the Members Magazine ($15,000), the purchase of books for the Library ($2,000), and the Art of Collecting ($10,000).

Fundraising - The First Frost Arts & Fine Crafts Fair on November 6 and 7, 2010 netted $14,401. Founders continued its positive auction initiative partnership with Fratz Consignment in Fenton. Donated items suitable for auction were promoted and sold more successfully through this venue than through the Van Goghing, Going, Gone Auction. The Chair Affair, a new Founders fundraiser, was an online art auction of over fifty chairs that were decorated and donated by local artists throughout Genesee County. The chairs were on display at local businesses during the online auction period from May 27 to August 16.

Travel & Tours - The Montreal and Mackinac Island trips were successful and generated a commission of over $700.

Art Sales & Rental - In 2010–11 AS&R outperformed fiscal year 2009–10 by 208% with increased rental and sales income due largely to increased visitation to the FIA together with AS&R's efforts to be more visible to these visitors. New marketing ideas were also considered and new items were added for sale such as Founders Society tee shirts. As a result of these efforts, the AS&R ended the year in the black with a net income of $5,012.

Hospitality Committee - Among other things, the Founders Society Hospitality Committee is responsible for organizing receptions for exhibition openings. On May 6, 2011, Founders hosted an opening reception for three exhibitions: Edmund Lewandowski: Precisionism and Beyond, Something Waits Beneath It: Early Work by Andrew Wyeth, and Sidney Hurwitz: Images of Industry. Founders volunteers purchased and prepared refreshments for more than 200 guests. On December 6, 2010, the traditional Christmas holiday luncheon was hosted for all FIA staff members to recognize them for the many ways in which they generously assisted the Founders Society in its ongoing fundraising efforts.

Summary - From a fundraising perspective, it has been a trying year and a learning experience as well, because the old ways of revenue generation that served us well for years no longer worked. Times and things change, and we must do so also. On the positive side, Founders are now seeing resurgences in AS&R and Travel & Tours income. The new Chair Affair auction, using online technology, may be the way of the future as Founders continue to explore previously untapped areas seeking to generate new revenue streams. This past year, members of the Founders Society have collectively donated thousands of hours of service to the ultimate benefit of the Flint Institute of Arts. In May, Founders added six new members to our Board of Directors who will bring new ideas and fresh perspectives. The Founders Society remains committed to the support of the Flint Institute of Arts.

Thompson Lecture

On October 5, 2010, the 20th Annual Thompson Lecture members-only event with lecturer Robert Wittman, former FBI Agent, gave us an insider’s look at Pricless: How I Went Undercover to Rescue the World’s Stolen Treasures.

Rising from humble roots as the son of an antiques dealer, Robert Wittman joined the FBI as a Special Agent in 1988 and was assigned to the Philadelphia Field Division. As a result of special training in art, antiques, jewelry and gem identification, he served as the FBI’s investigative expert in this field. In 2005, he was named as the ACT’s Senior Investigator in the FBI’s Art Crime Team and instructed the teams in how to conduct cultural property investigations.

Wittman built a 20-year law enforcement career that was nothing short of extraordinary. Armed with a scholar’s passion, a con man’s smile, and a daredevil’s nerves, he worked undercover to catch art thieves, scammers, and black-market traders in Paris and Philadelphia, Rio and Santa Fe, Miami and Madrid.

By the FBI’s accounting, Wittman saved hundreds of millions of dollars’ worth of art and antiquities. He says the statistic isn’t important. After all, who’s to say what is worth more—a Rembrandt self-portrait or an American flag carried into battle? They’re both priceless.

To document these stunning recoveries, the book How I Went Undercover to Rescue the World’s Stolen Treasures was released in June 2010 and was available for sale in the FIA’s Museum Shop. Just four days after the book was published, Graham King’s GK Films snapped up the rights for a feature film.

Dr. and Mrs. Jack W. Thompson established the Thompson Lecture Fund in 1991 to enable the FIA to present a distinguished speaker to the arts or humanities each year. The Thompson lecture series is one of the Institute’s few members-only events and was established, in part, to attract new members to the Flint Institute of Arts.

Intercollegiate Lego Competition

The Create Your Own Masterpiece Intercollegiate Lego Competition held October 9, 2010 featured student teams from Baker College, Kettering University, Mott Community College and University of Michigan-Flint. Each team had 16,700 Lego blocks to work with and a three-hour time limit in which to construct their “masterpieces.” Members of the College Town Student Advisory Council organized the event with assistance from FIA staff. The Mott Community College team took first place with their sculpture and Baker College received the People’s Choice Award. The competition attracted over 900 visitors and is scheduled to become an annual event.

financial statement

independent auditor’s report statement of financial position

June 30, 2011 with comparative totals for 2010

Board of Directors
Flint Institute of Arts
Flint, Michigan

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial position of Flint Institute of Arts, a Michigan non-profit corporation, as of June 30, 2011 and the related statements of activity, functional expenses and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Institute’s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. The prior year summarized comparative information has been derived from the organization’s 2010 financial statements and, in our report dated December 13, 2010 we expressed an unqualified opinion on those financial statements.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Flint Institute of Arts, as of June 30, 2011, and the changes in net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The supplemental financial information is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements, and in our opinion, it is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.
